

Acorn Project Worksheet

Project Mission Focus: Disciple of Jesus Christ

- Team Name: BetterthanTeamAte
- Team member's Names: Wessly Green, Abishek Chudal, Leven Barney, Mausham Bista
- Project Title: Dating is Fun!
- Project Influences:

	Belief	Actions
Self	oConsciousness	oConduct
Group	oConnectedness	oInteraction
Community	oRepresentation	oCooperation

Explain:

Is going to influence us by learning how to minister to other people. Dating takes more than one person, dedication, and Christ-like love.

- Project Values:
 - Honesty
 - Respect
 - Loyalty
 - Trust
 - Funny
- Description: By using these values, we want to create a bond with our dates. Have a fun but most important spiritual environment.

- Vision Statement: In the scriptures we learn that there are going to be challenges in our lives, and it's not different in love life either, but God will not give us something we can't do. We know that not all dates are going to work, but we won't lose faith, and we are going to keep trying, by asking more girls out, planning better dates, being friendly, and charismatic.
- SMART Goal:
 - o Specific: A date with 3 activities that will be going to Nature Park to go on a walk and talk, then we will play pickleball, and we will end by going out for dessert.
 - o Measurable: There will be several milestones: having the courage to ask a someone on the date, learning about their hobbies, buying them ice cream, holding their hand, and asking them out for a second date.
 - o Attainable: Two weeks is plenty of time to plan a group date with three main activities in order to build a relationship/friendship.
 - o Relevant: This project allows us to deepen our connection to an individual or group of individuals, so that we can learn and grow as ministering brothers and sisters.
 - o Timely: It takes about 2 hours to plan a reasonable date for four people, a couple of hours to find someone to go, and the rest of the time can be spent on the date itself.

Summary: In planning this date, we as a group are talking together about how we can make sure that our plans are specific so everybody is on the same page, measurable so that everyone knows about how long we would take, attainable in the time period we will have, relevant to our institutional learning outcomes, and timely for the effectiveness of the date.

- Audience (Who, What, Where, When, Why, How):

The audience for this project most probably will be girls and us with few people around us where we go. We will just play pickleball, go to the park and talk with each other about us and have ice cream. We will probably go to the nature park and then we will go to walk in the road and most probably the bakery or somewhere we will get the ice cream or dessert. We will probably go on next week. The purpose of going on a date is to get to know each other better, having fun and chilling. We will do this by finding people, talk with them and invite until we find someone to go.

· Roles and Responsibilities:

Role	Responsibilities
o 1: Leader everything is being fulfilled)	(Responsible for making sure
o 2: Thinker going to do on the dates)	(Responsible for the activities we are
o 3: Challenger first does not work)	(Responsible for having a plan B if the
o N: Supporter	(Responsible for maintaining a good,
funny, and respectful environment in the group)

· Milestones

- o 1. Having courage to ask them out
- o 2. Ask her about her hobbies
- o 3. Buy her ice-cream
- o 4. Grab their hand while we are on date
- o 5. Ask her for second date

· Instructor Improvements Suggestions:

- o _____
- o _____

[] Approved Date: _____

Acorn Project Worksheet

Project Mission Focus: Sound Thinkers

- Team Name: BetterthanTeamAte
- Team member's Names: Wessly Green, Abishek Chudal, Leven Barney, Mausham Bista
- Project Title: Dating is Fun!
- Project Influences:

	Belief	Actions
Self	oConsciousness	oConduct
Group	oConnectedness	oInteraction
Community	oRepresentation	oCooperation

Explain: This project is going to influence us to grow our skills of planning activities with friends as a team.

- Project Values:
 - Problem-Solving
 - Critical thinking
 - Emotional aspects
 - Respect
 - Trust

- Description: By using these values, we want to create a bond with our dates. Have a fun but most important spiritual environment. We also want to be able to be patient and solve our problems more effectively.

- Vision Statement: In the scriptures we learn that there are going to be challenges in our lives, and it's not different in love life either, but God will not give us something we can't do. We know that not all dates are going to work, but we won't lose faith, and we are going to keep trying, by asking more girls out, planning better dates, being friendly, and charismatic.

- SMART Goal:

- o Specific: A date with 3 activities that will be going to a Nature Park to go on a walk and talk, then we will play pickleball, and we will end by going out for dessert.
- o Measurable: There will be several milestones: having the courage to ask a someone on the date, learning about their hobbies, buying them ice cream, holding their hand, and asking them out for a second date.
- o Attainable: Two weeks is plenty of time to plan a group date with three main activities in order to build a relationship/friendship.
- o Relevant: This project allows us to become more creative, effective and efficient problem solvers
- o Timely: It takes about 2 hours to plan a reasonable date for four people, a couple of hours to find someone to go, and the rest of the time can be spent on the date itself.

Summary: In planning this date, we as a group are talking together about how we can make sure that our plans are specific so everybody is on the same page, measurable so that everyone knows about how long we would take, attainable in the time period we will have, relevant to our institutional learning outcomes, and timely for the effectiveness of the date.

- Audience (Who, What, Where, When, Why, How):

The audience for this project most probably will be girls and us with few people around us where we go. We will just play pickleball, go to the park and talk with each other about us and have ice cream. We will probably go to the nature park and then we will go to walk in the road and most probably the bakery or somewhere we will get the ice cream or dessert. We will probably go on next week. The purpose of going on a date is to get to know each other better, having fun and chilling. We will do this by finding people, talk with them and invite until we find someone to go.

- Roles and Responsibilities:

Role	Responsibilities
o 1: Leader everything is being fulfilled)	(Responsible for making sure
o 2: Thinker going to do on the dates)	(Responsible for the activities we are
o 3: Challenger first does not work)	(Responsible for having a plan B if the o N: Supporter	(Responsible for maintaining a good, funny, and respectful environment in the group)

- Milestones

- o 1. Having courage to ask them out
- o 2. Ask her about her hobbies
- o 3. Buy her ice-cream
- o 4. Grab their hand while we are on date
- o 5. Ask her for second date

- Instructor Improvements Suggestions:

- o _____

o _____

[] Approved Date: _____

Acorn Project Worksheet

Project Mission Focus: Effective Communicator

- Team Name: BetterthanTeamAte
- Team member's Names: Wessly Green, Abishek Chudal, Leven Barney, Mausham Bista

Project Title: Dating is Fun!

- Project Influences:

	Belief	Actions
Self	oConsciousness	oConduct
Group	oConnectedness	oInteraction
Community	oRepresentation	oCooperation

Explain: By using these values, we want to create a bond with our dates. Have a fun but most important spiritual environment. We also want to be able to be patient and solve our problems more effectively. Communication is also important, we will be influenced by being more extroverted.

- Project Values:

- Self-awareness
- Extroverted
- Honest
- Clear

- Confidence
- Trust

· Description: By using these values, we want to create a bond with our dates. Have a fun but most important spiritual environment. We also want to be able to be patient and solve our problems more effectively.

· Vision Statement: In the scriptures we learn that there are going to be challenges in our lives, and it's not different in love life either, but God will not give us something we can't do. We know that not all dates are going to work, but we won't lose faith, and we are going to keep trying, by asking more girls out, planning better dates, being friendly, and charismatic.

· SMART Goal:

- o Specific: A date with 3 activities that will be going to Nature Park to go on a walk and talk, then we will play pickleball, and we will end by going out for dessert.
- o Measurable: There will be several milestones: having the courage to ask a someone on the date, learning about their hobbies, buying them ice cream, holding their hand, and asking them out for a second date.
- o Attainable: Two weeks is plenty of time to plan a group date with three main activities in order to build a relationship/friendship.
- o Relevant: This project allows us to grow as communicators, to be better at not only sharing our message but also at understanding and receiving others messages.
- o Timely: It takes about 2 hours to plan a reasonable date for four people, a couple of hours to find someone to go, and the rest of the time can be spent on the date itself.

Summary: In planning this date, we as a group are talking together about how we can make sure that our plans are specific so everybody is on the same page, measurable so that everyone knows about how long we would take, attainable in the time period we will have, relevant to our institutional learning outcomes, and timely for the effectiveness of the date.

- Audience (Who, What, Where, When, Why, How):

The audience for this project most probably will be girls and us with few people around us where we go. We will just play pickleball, go to the park and talk with each other about us and have ice cream. We will probably go to the nature park and then we will go to walk in the road and most probably the bakery or somewhere we will get the ice cream or dessert. We will probably go on next week. The purpose of going on a date is to get to know each other better, having fun and chilling. We will do this by finding people, talk with them and invite until we find someone to go.

Roles and Responsibilities:

Role	Responsibilities
o 1: Leader everything is being fulfilled)	(Responsible for making sure
o 2: Thinker going to do on the dates)	(Responsible for the activities we are
o 3: Challenger first does not work)	(Responsible for having a plan B if the
o N: Supporter	(Responsible for maintaining a good,
funny, and respectful environment in the group)

- Milestones

- o 1. Having courage to ask them out
- o 2. Ask her about her hobbies
- o 3. Buy her ice-cream
- o 4. Grab their hand while we are on date
- o 5. Ask her for second date

- Instructor Improvements Suggestions:

o _____

o _____

[] Approved Date: _____

Acorn Project Worksheet

Project Mission Focus: Skilled Collaborators

- Team Name: BetterthanTeamAte
- Team member's Names: Wessly Green, Abishek Chudal, Leven Barney, Mausham Bista
-

Project Title: Dating is Fun!

- Project Influences:

	Belief	Actions
Self	oConsciousness	oConduct
Group	oConnectedness	oInteraction
Community	oRepresentation	oCooperation

Explain: By using these values, we want to create a bond with our dates. Have a fun but most important spiritual environment. We also want to be able to be patient and solve our problems more effectively. Communication is also important, we will be influenced by being more extroverted.

- Project Values:
 - Effective listening
 - Trust
 - Respect
 - Responsibility

- Relationship management

- Description: By using these values, we want to create a bond with our dates. Have a fun but most important spiritual environment. We also want to be able to be patient and solve our problems more effectively. We want to learn how to work as a team, and cooperate with each other's necessities.

.

Vision Statement: In the scriptures we learn that there are going to be challenges in our lives, and it's not different in love life either, but God will not give us something we can't do. We know that not all dates are going to work, but we won't lose faith, and we are going to keep trying, by asking more girls out, planning better dates, being friendly, and charismatic.

- SMART Goal:

- o Specific: A date with 3 activities that will be going to Nature Park to go on a walk and talk, then we will play pickleball, and we will end by going out for dessert.
- o Measurable: There will be several milestones: having the courage to ask someone on the date, learning about their hobbies, buying them ice cream, holding their hand, and asking them out for a second date.
- o Attainable: Two weeks is plenty of time to plan a group date with three main activities in order to build a relationship/friendship.
- o Relevant: Through our stages of planning we developed a stronger bond and greater ability to collaborate with our peers.
- o Timely: It takes about 2 hours to plan a reasonable date for four people, a couple of hours to find someone to go, and the rest of the time can be spent on the date itself.

Summary: In planning this date, we as a group are talking together about how we can make sure that our plans are specific so everybody is on the same page, measurable so that everyone knows about how long we would take, attainable in the time period we will have, relevant to our institutional learning outcomes, and timely for the effectiveness of the date.

· Audience (Who, What, Where, When, Why, How):

The audience for this project most probably will be girls and us with few people around us where we go. We will just play pickleball, go to the park and talk with each other about us and have ice cream. We will probably go to the nature park and then we will go to walk in the road and most probably the bakery or somewhere we will get the ice cream or dessert. We will probably go on next week. The purpose of going on a date is to get to know each other better, having fun and chilling. We will do this by finding people, talk with them and invite until we find someone to go.

· Roles and Responsibilities:

Role	Responsibilities
o 1: Leader everything is being fulfilled)	(Responsible for making sure
o 2: Thinker going to do on the dates)	(Responsible for the activities we are
o 3: Challenger first does not work)	(Responsible for having a plan B if the
o N: Supporter	(Responsible for maintaining a good,
funny, and respectful environment in the group)

· Milestones

- o 1. Having courage to ask them out
- o 2. Ask her about her hobbies

- o 3. Buy her ice-cream
- o 4. Grab their hand while we are on date
- o 5. Ask her for second date

· Instructor Improvements Suggestions:

o _____

o _____

[] Approved Date: _____